Irishtown Bend Riverfront Development

Irishtown Bend Park is a 25-acre green space under development along the west bank of Cleveland's Cuyahoga River. Designed through extensive community engagement, the park aims to reconnect neighborhoods like Ohio City and downtown Cleveland to the riverfront and Lake Erie, completing a vital link in the 101-mile Ohio & Erie Canal Towpath Trail. The site holds deep historical significance, once home to Irish immigrants in the 19th century, and will feature an Irish Heritage Site with preserved foundations and artifacts. Accessibility and equity are central to the project, with input from residents of nearby public housing shaping inclusive features like accessible trails, a playground, and an amphitheater. Before park construction begins, the Port of Cleveland is undertaking a $60 million hillside stabilization project to secure the area and protect the river's shipping channel. Irishtown Bend Park is set to become a transformative urban oasis, fostering community connections and honoring Cleveland's rich heritage.
